

Like many I was very apprehensive about finding a quality handyman on Gumtree but I took the chance and emailed Dom outlining the work that I needed doing in my flat. He promptly responded and made an appointment to visit my flat so he could see how much flooring needed to be laid and the current state of the flooring. At all times he was professional and as I was a novice in all things flooring he offered and explained suggestions that he thought would produce better results for the end result. He sent a quote that was reasonable and was open to (a little) negotiation and we finally settled on a price. Both him and Adam had good time-keeping and they treated my home with respect; always tidying up after themselves and updating me with progress. We had agreed on 2 – 3 days work and that was exactly how long it took. The finish in the passage, living room and front room are better than I could have managed and were finished to a very high standard. I would not hesitate to hire Dom again and have already made a recommendation to a work colleague who wants to get some work done!
